THE COST OF CARE

Medical providers’ financial costs can range between $22,000 to over $64,400 per turnover.

79% of nursing school graduates think nursing schools should provide workshops and special training about handling workplace bullies.

THE BULLY EFFECT

Working in a hostile environment and being a victim of workplace bullying is a significant concern for many.

48% of nurses say they are concerned about being victims of bullying.

Approximately 60% of nurses left their first nursing jobs within six months.

A TOUGH PILL TO SWALLOW

39% personally knew nurses who were victims of bullying.

THE SURPRISING PREVALENCE OF BULLYING IN NURSING

Many nurses choose their profession because they care about the wellbeing of others. However, we recently discovered nearly half of the nurses we talked to are often not being treated with the same respect they give to others.

HOW TO REACT

Help shed light on workplace bullying in nursing. Share this graphic and visit kaptest.com/nursing.